Alberta Asking For Increase in Hospital Grant

The Dominion government has been asked by the Alberta government to increase by $100,000 a grant of $100,000 towards cost of the planned tuberculosis sanatorium to be built in Edmonton, it was learned Monday.

The Ottawa government recently announced a $150,000 grant towards cost of the structure, at the same time asking for use of 100 beds in the institution. Health department officials have requested an extra $100,000 grant, in order to provide the Dominion with the 100 beds requested.

If the $100,000 is not forthcoming, then Alberta will go ahead and build a 200-bed institution, estimated to cost $300,000, on a location to be decided on the University of Alberta campus.

The government planned originally to build a 300-bed sanatorium, but high cost of materials and furnishings made it necessary to cut the size to 200 beds.

The Dominion government grant of $150,000 was for furnishings and equipment, but would leave Alberta with 100 beds only for its own use.

Word as to disposal of the government request for the extra grant is expected by Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, within a few days.

26 Killed in Airliner Crash

LONDON, Aug. 28.—(CP)—Twenty-six persons were killed early today when a large air transport crashed into a house near the trans-Atlantic military air base at Prestwick, Scotland.

The dead included seven of the plane crew, 14 passengers and five occupants of the house, which was demolished.

Soldiers and civil defence workers labored through the darkness to recover bodies from the wreckage.

Two nearby houses were badly damaged and the roof of a fourth was torn off.

It was the second time within a week that a plane had crashed on a building. Last Wednesday 50 people were killed or died as a result of injuries when a United States bomber plunged on to the schoolhouse at Freckleton, Lancashire.

New National Books To Be Distributed Week of Oct. 14-21

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—(CP)—The Prices Board announced Saturday that ration book No. 5 will be distributed to the Canadian public the week of Oct. 14-21, and said coupons will be included in the new book to cover "emergencies that may arise."

K. W. Taylor, co-ordinator of the food administration, said the situation regarding rationed commodities was examined regularly every few months to determine their position in the light of any new developments. A study now was being made of the preserves ration picture to see what action should be taken should the sugar supply situation become worse.

The board's announcement said it was generally felt that it would be wiser to reduce the quota of sugar to industrial users than to cut the regular ration to consumers.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Soviet cavalry forces drove over the eastern Carpathian mountains through Transylvania and crossed the Hungarian border today, a Berlin broadcast admitted, while two other Russian armies poured through Galati Gap on Bucharest and Ploesti, where German and Romanian troops, erstwhile Allies, were reported fighting against each other.

The German DNB Agency admitted that Soviet cavalry units had penetrated the Hungarian border at an unidentified point, but claimed that Nazi and Hungarian troops had repelled them and that all the passes in the northern Carpathians still were firmly in German hands.

Although Moscow remained silent on the German announcement, the report indicated that Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's 2nd Ukrainian army was making good progress toward a major breach into Transylvania, bone of contention between Romania and Hungary since its award to Hungary by German dictate in 1940.

DNB also reported that in northern Bucharest and in Ploesti area, fighting broke out when Romanian troops, "according to Soviet instructions," attempted to disarm the Germans. It asserted, however, that German troops were "holding out in their positions everywhere."

Malinovsky's mechanized Cossacks panned the drives down through the Galati gap which military observers believed would complete the liberation of the Balkans in a few weeks. They drove a spearhead through Ploesti's outer defenses and sent another force racing toward the Romanian capital farther south.

Fanning out south of Ramnicul-Sarat, where Malinovsky brought his forces to within 57 miles of Romania's rich oil fields and 72 miles from Bucharest.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Hundreds of Allied fighter planes and fighter-bombers defied difficult weather today to rake German escape routes north of the Seine and supply routes along the Franco-German border.

RAF, Dominion and American planes from both Normandy and British bases struck the German transport system.

The attacks ranged from Nijmegen, Holland, to Frankfurt, and spread down the Reich border to the Saarbourg area, where 11 troop trains were strafed.

The widespread attacks, on the fifth consecutive day of an intensified Allied aerial offensive, followed yesterday's assault when nearly 10,000 tons of explosives

Many Hotels in Sask. May Lose Beer Licenses

REGINA, Aug. 28.—Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines announced today that the Saskatchewan government intends to cancel the beer licenses of hotels in the province which are operating below the required minimum standard.

Mr. Fines said complaints have been received of poor service in country hotels in Saskatchewan. Many hotels are said to have discontinued their meals service and allowed their equipment to deteriorate.

"We are determined," said Mr. Fines, "that this condition will be rectified and any hotel which has a licensed premises must take steps to bring service up to the specified minimum standard required."

And, he added, "those failing to do so will have their licenses cancelled at an early date."

SUBSIDIARY OPERATION
Fines said beer parlors in hotels are a subsidiary operation to the rest of the hotel, but in many cases sale of beer has become the main business of the establishment.

Hotels in this category, he declared, "are using their hotel licenses to operate as beer parlors. They are not operating as hotels, providing meals and other required facilities of hotels."

SOME OF THE HOTELS IN THE province are said to have given shortage of labor as a reason for closing up their dining rooms, and Mr. Fines asserted, "some of the country hotels are using the labor shortage question as an excuse to operate only a beer parlor."

The provincial treasurer says an investigation will be made among the 450 hotels in the province to ascertain where services should be improved.

By cancelling the beer licenses in cases where the standards were not maintained, the government would cut off the main source of revenue for small hotels.

Maurice Chevalier Victim of Maquis?

LONDON, Aug. 28.—(CP)—Maurice Chevalier, former French film star, was reported to have been killed by the Maquis last Friday.

Reuters News Agency said yesterday in a dispatch from Paris-French headquarters in London said it had received no confirmation of Chevalier's death, and added that if it were true, "we would be very much surprised, because orders were that any suspects were to be arrested for trial, not shot immediately."

ROME, Aug. 28.—American tanks and artillery, racing more than 50 miles overland into the Rhone valley, closed behind the beaten remnants of the German 19th Army at Montelimar today and together with French Maquis turned a murderous fire on some 15,000 Nazis trapped against the east bank of the Rhone.

With their bridges across the broad Rhone cut by Allied bombers, the survivors of the 19th Army faced imminent death or capture between the converging guns of the main American forces moving up from Avignon and the enveloping columns of Montelimar, halfway between the Mediterranean coast and Lyon.

Balkan Battleground Nazis Battle Former Allies For Bucharest

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Adolf Hitler, battling with guns and threats to hold his deserting Balkan satellites in line, launched a full-scale attack on Bucharest today and rushed his diplomatic trouble-shooters to Sofia to block a Hungarian declaration of war on the Reich.

The German Transoceanic news agency said fierce fighting had broken out between Nazi troops and their erstwhile allies in Romania, where 11 German divisions were reported to have been killed, captured or trapped since Romania broke her ties with Berlin and went over to the Allies last week.

BUCHAREST ENCIRCLED
Transoceanic said German troops had completely encircled Bucharest, where Premier Marshal Constantin Sefulescu and his new anti-Nazi cabinet were holding the former premier Ion Antonescu and members of a German military mission.

Bucharest has been cut off from all communication with the rest of the world.

British Pour Across Seine Above Paris; Americans In Drive to Chateau-Thierry

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Aug. 28.—Powerful British armored forces streamed across the Seine above Paris today while American troops drove through the valley of the Marne toward the last war battleground of Chateau-Thierry in a double-edged threat to the Nazis' robot bomb bases and the borders of Germany itself.

The battered German armies of northern France were in full retreat before Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's onslaught, and Nazi reports said one American column had thrust beyond captured Troyes to reach the Marne at Vitry-Enfrancois, 100 miles southeast of Paris and barely 90 miles from the German frontier.

As the Americans drove eastward, long lines of British 2nd Army tanks and mechanized infantry swarmed across the Seine river bridgehead at Vernon, 38 miles northwest of Paris, and struck out for Fleury, six miles beyond the Seine and 14 miles southeast of Rouen.

Other British columns of Lt. Gen. Sir Miles Dempsey's army swept across the Seine in force at Mantes, Elbeuf and a newly-won bridgehead at Louviers, almost midway between Vernon and Elbeuf.

British United Press correspondent William A. Wilson reported from the front that Canadian First Army troops had sealed off the German pocket south of the Seine where, according to other front dispatches, elements of two German panzer and three infantry divisions are trapped. He said the Germans were making a desperate effort to extricate these troops, estimated to number about 25,000.

Only feeble enemy opposition was encountered by the British spearheads, but headquarters spokesmen warned it was too early to determine whether Hitler had ordered his troops in the Pas de Calais to hold at all costs or to abandon their flying bomb bases to avoid encirclement.

WEAK RESISTANCE
Equally weak resistance met the American columns in their thrust up the Marne, and official reports placed the spearheads on the approaches of Chateau-Thierry barely 30 miles south-southeast of the city.

Douglas Calls Session Oct. 19

REGINA, Aug. 28.—(BUP)—Premier T. C. Douglas announced today that the first session of the new CCF government in Saskatchewan will be called October 19.

The government hopes that the session will not last more than ten to fifteen days. If it lasts for that period it will be regarded as representing the beginning of the 1945 session, thus eliminating the payment of indemnities.

However, Premier Douglas pointed out that if the session should last for a month, a partial indemnity could be paid.

The government is making every attempt to make the session as short as possible, Mr. Douglas said, and ministers are being asked to introduce only the minimum of legislative requirements.

This legislation, he added, will include measures dealing with labor, debt, and bills setting up new boards or arranging to discard or amalgamate other boards.

Polling Today

Most Observers Pick Tories to Win N.B. Vote

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Aug. 28.—Most political observers pick the Progressive Conservatives to win the New Brunswick elections, taking place today. Hugh MacKay, the Progressive Conservative leader, has carried an elaborate organization for the past two years. Mr. MacKay is of a well-known, wealthy family and is a millionaire in his own right. He has not spared money in this campaign and expects to win.

Premier McNair is appealing on a social reform program but his government has been in office nine years. He is facing a difficult situation as it is expected he will lose more votes to the CCF than the Progressive Conservatives.

The CCF leader, J. A. Muirhead, has put up a remarkable campaign for his mildness, with no talk of socialism, but public ownership. The campaign is entirely different from that conducted by the CCF in their successful campaign in Saskatchewan and the recent campaign in Alberta. The CCF is expected to make substantial gains but no one expects them to win a majority of the seats.

The Liberals and Progressive Conservatives are contesting all of the 48 seats. The CCF has candidates in 41 of the 48 ridings.

Polls in the New Brunswick election close at 4 p.m. Edmonton time. First results are expected to reach Edmonton around 5 p.m.

Gen. de Gaulle Escapes Death In Paris Clash

By HAL BOYLE
PARIS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Gen. de Gaulle escaped death or injury and thousands of Parisians were thrown into panic Saturday as French capital's great liberation parade broke up in wild flurries of gunfire along the four-mile line of march. Several spectators were killed and dozens were wounded.

A few moments before these people had cheered Gen. de Gaulle with a thunderous ovation as he sped along the parade route at a 40-mile-an-hour clip. He was preceded by an armored motorcycle guard and followed by French light tanks and heavily armed scout cars.

PATRIOTS OPEN FIRE

French patriots in the parade began firing at roof tops from which French Fascist militia had sniped at them. The crackle of gunfire quickly spread along the route from the Arc de Triomphe to the Hotel de Ville (the city hall) and the famed Notre Dame cathedral.

Soon thousands of men of the French forces of the interior were pouring rifle, machine-gun and pistol fire at the bordering rooftops and the fighting extended rapidly throughout Paris. The parade crowd melted into the nearest shelter.

The victory address was postponed. Thousands of men, women and children milled about in terror as rifles and machine-guns kept up a continuous fire which spread rapidly to other sections of the city as though by signal.

Excited French claimed that Nazi sympathizers had hidden in strategic spots on roofs along the route of march to disrupt the parade—and perhaps to kill Gen. de Gaulle.

Some streets were blocked off to traffic by the F.F.I. and they began a systematic search of buildings in an attempt to locate snipers.

TUMULTUOUS NIGHT

Rifle and machine-gun fire rang out in all sections of the city Saturday after a tumultuous night of celebration Friday—mostly observed indoors because the air outside was full of wild, flying bullets.

Most of the Germans in the capital had been flushed from hiding and killed or captured in running street battles, but still continuing was the vendetta between French Liberal forces and the native collaborationists. Patriots armed with Tommy-guns, captured German rifles and pistols whirled about the streets at 60 miles an hour, seeking hide-outs of French Fascists who pitched in with the Germans earlier in the battle for Paris.

Particularly deadly had been the bitter street duels between the French resistance fighters and members of the Fascist militia—the Miliciens—set up by collaborationist leader Marcel Deat and others before they fled with the Vichy government to Belfort.

FIGHT PITCHED BATTLES

Many of these native turncoats have chosen to fight pitched battles, leaping from roof to roof until they were cornered and killed.

In the waning hours of German resistance Friday 400 German troops were barricaded in the great chamber of deputies, and they fought fiercely for an hour before they surrendered late in the day. This was the last major stand in any force within the city.

Nazis Battle Former Allies For Bucharest

the country, Transocean said, asserting that the Romanian army itself has been divided into two camps, one supporting Senatescu and the other continuing the fight against Russia.

At the same time, signs multiplied that Bulgaria, after breaking with Germany, over the Romanian clash, was on the verge of declaring war against the Reich.

The Nazi DNB news agency said Hitler's ambassador to Bulgaria had returned to his post in Sofia after a hurried conference with Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop—presumably to warn the Bulgars against any war move.

DNB said the ambassador was "discussing" the situation with Bulgarian officials, but quoted a foreign office spokesman as saying it was "too early" to comment.

RUSSIANS ATTACKING

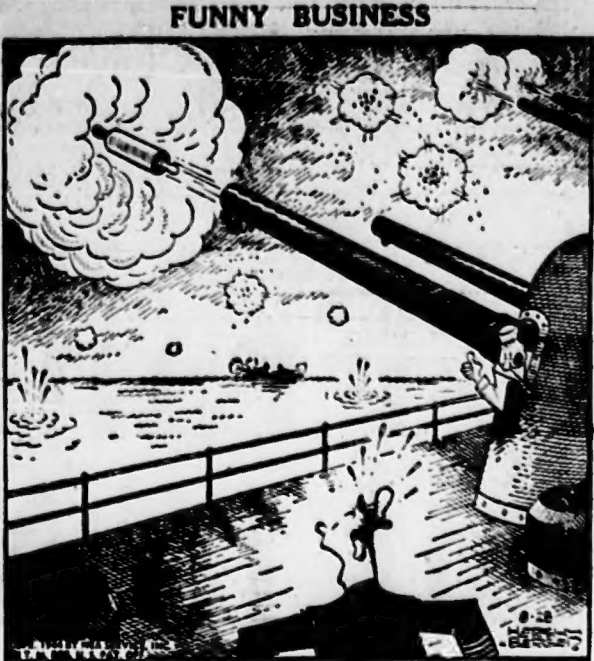

Adding to the explosive possibilities of the situation for Germany, the Nazi high command admitted that Russian troops were attacking the Carpathian mountain passes leading into Hungary in an effort to knock that satellite out of the war.

The Hungarian council in Britain, headed by Count Michael Karolyi, onetime president of the Hungarian republic, called on its countrymen to drive the Germans from Hungary. Otherwise, the council warned, Hungary will share Germany's fate.

Only in Slovakia did Hitler make any attempt to salvage the situation. Reports reaching diplomatic circles in Turkey said German SS troops from adjoining Austria began occupying Slovakia Sunday morning, taking over communications and other strategic points. Conditions in Slovakia bordered on chaos, the dispatch said.

DIVISIONS TRAPPED

Turkish sources estimated that the Romanians had trapped 11 German divisions in southeastern Romania and radio Bucharest was heard broadcasting that the majority of German troops throughout

Petaín, Herriot, Laval Arrested: Taken to Reich

By DON WHITEHEAD
PARIS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Marshal Henri Petaín, Pierre Laval and Edouard Herriot, former premier of the republic, were arrested by the Gestapo and taken to Germany a few days before the Allied forces entered Paris.

Before he left, Petaín sent a clandestine message to the people of France urging them to unite and asserting that all he had submitted to had been for their welfare.

The 88-year-old chief of state said in his message he knew he would be arrested, and on Aug. 20, five days before Allied troops entered Paris, he was taken to Belfort near the Swiss frontier and then to Germany.

RUMOR LAVAL "DEAD"

Many Parisians are whispering that Laval arranged the arrests of Petaín and Herriot and then his own arrest in a deal with his German masters which would prevent the Allies from getting custody of Petaín and Herriot. At the same time, he was said to have tried to make it appear to his countrymen that he did not leave Paris voluntarily as the Allied troops drew near.

Petaín was taken into custody by an official of the German embassy, but he sent this message before leaving:

"Frenchemen: When this message the country had been disarmed and interned and the 'remainder annihilated'."

From Ankara also came a report that Romanians in Transylvania were so enraged by the Germans bombing of their capital that they had begun a "campaign of extermination" against 1,000,000 Germans in that province.

reaches you I shall no longer be free.

"In the extreme condition that I now find myself I have nothing to reveal to you except that the simple confirmation of what has motivated my conduct for the past four years.

"Having decided to remain among you I have tried day by day to find the best way to serve the permanent interests of France loyally and with compromise.

ONLY ONE OBJECT

"I had but one object—to protect you from the worst.

"All that I have done and all that I have accepted, consented to, or submitted to, whether willingly or by force, has been solely for your welfare: because if I could not be your sword I wanted to be your shield."

Petaín continued:

"Under certain circumstances my words and my acts must have surprised you. You must realize that they have hurt me more than you can possibly imagine.

"I have suffered for you and with you, and I have marshalled all of my forces against what I perceived as a certain peril. However, there were some, alas, that I could not prevent.

CALLS FOR UNITY

"Again once more I advise you to unite."

"It is not difficult to do one's duty, even though it sometimes is hard to recognize it. Yours is simple. Unite with those who will give you a guarantee to lead you along the road of honor and order.

"Order must reign. And because I represent order legitimately, I remain your chief. Obey me and obey those who will bring you words of social peace without which order cannot be re-established."

Free Hungarian Council Urges People Revolt

By WADE WERNER
LONDON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Pro-Ally Hungarians yesterday called on the last big Axis satellite in Hitler's collapsing Balkan front to quit the war as the Germans strove desperately to keep weakened Hungary in line by rushing defence construction workers to her imperilled frontiers.

With Bulgaria awaiting delivery of Anglo-American armistice terms and persistent reports that troops of capitulated Romania were fighting the Hungarians in disputed Transylvania, the free Hungarian council in London issued an appeal to all Hungarians to overthrow their government and turn their weapons against the Germans.

URGE ARMY TO ACT

CBS in New York quoted the BBC as saying that Hungarian underground stations likewise called on the Hungarian army to "Throw the Germans out of their country and quit the Russian front."

The free Hungarian council manifesto was drafted under the chairmanship of Count Michael Karolyi, briefly president of the Hungarian republic in 1918 before the regime was supplanted by Bela Kun's Communist government.

A Moscow dispatch said the Germans had rushed workers to Hungary's borders, particularly to Transylvania which Michael's new pro-Ally government in Bucharest has announced its intention of regaining.

In Bucharest the Romanian government issued a manifesto calling on troops and civilians to chase the Germans out of that country and prevent them "from destroying the wealth of our country—a nation rich in oil and wheat."

Berlin radio reported "unusually ferocious" fighting in the Ploesti oil region north of Bucharest.

Moscow already has announced that Romanian troops, turning against their former partners, had plugged those escape passes which lead to Hungary via Transylvania province.

The Anglo-American armistice terms being offered to Bulgaria have been made known to Moscow but these terms have not been disclosed.

Rocket Coast Next Canuck Troops Across Seine As Battle for River Won

By ROSS MUNRO
WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 28.—(CP)—The battle for the Seine has been won and the battle for the rocket coast of northern France lies just ahead. Another smashing Allied victory there could open the way right into Germany and wind up the war in Europe.

Canadian forces yesterday crossed the Seine south of Rouen after their 70-mile advance in 10 days from Falaise by way of the Trun gap where they shared with British and American troops in the decimation of the German 7th Army.

Infantry and armor also moved into the Rouen loop of the Seine toward the city which sits astride the winding river as British elements to the northwest began to mop up the enemy left in the small pocket southwest of the Seine.

USED TWO CROSSINGS

The Canadians used two ferry crossings between Elbeuf and Pont de L'Arche, south of Rouen, in their crossings of the Seine which makes a big loop to the north from Elbeuf to Rouen.

Infantry has gone through the De La Londe forest west of the base of this loop, cleaning up pockets of Germans still resisting in the woods, and there was heavy fighting yesterday on the north edge of the woods and along the banks of the Seine there.

British troops in Lt. Gen. Crerar's 1st Canadian Army have strong formations over the lower stretch of the Risle river and are rapidly clearing out the small corner still possessed by the Germans on the west side of the Seine near its estuary.

WELL FOUGHT ACTION

A senior Canadian officer said the Germans were putting up a "well fought rearguard action" along the front of the British troops, thus permitting a number of Germans to get across the river.

But while the Germans are getting some troops out they are losing most of their equipment.

Western Canadian infantry crossed the river and are operating in a narrow neck of flat wooded land between seven and eight miles south of Rouen.

The stiffest fighting along the river was in the De La Londe Forest where western and Ontario infantry and French-speaking infantry from Quebec are shooting it out with the Germans. It is a war of ambushes, sniping and close-in fighting.

SCREEN MOVEMENTS

The resistance is of a rearguard type to screen preparations farther northeast for defence of the vulnerable rocket and robot-bomb coast stretching past Dieppe to the Pas de Calais area and beyond.

The German 15th Army has been ordered to defend the area of the rocket installations which are believed nearly ready for use but the enemy hasn't much left with which Forest of Compeigne where the armistice of 1918 was signed and where Germany imposed her harsh truce of 1940 on beaten France.

London newspapers asserted the battle of the robot bomb coast had begun and one said Lt. Gen. Sir Miles Dempsey's troops were 25 miles beyond the Seine at an undisputed point and pouring northward toward Dieppe, scene of the historic Canadian landing exploit in 1942.

BBC Correspondent Frank Gillard reported that supply trucks streamed through one Seine crossing yesterday at a rate of 600 every hour.

The Evening Standard said the British push, coupled with the American drive up the Marne and Seine, had the Allied armies "advancing on Germany and Belgium on a 500-mile front."

The headquarters communique, however, said only that the three bridgeheads above Paris were expanded and strengthened against varying opposition.

Farther to the north, Lt. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar's Canadian First Army troops entered their way up to the Seine river line all the way from the river estuary to the Forest De La Londe, just northwest of Elbeuf.

CLEAR HIGHWAY

The Canadian cleared the 13-mile stretch of highway leading to the Seine from Pont Audemer to Bourg-Archard and wiped out all but a few isolated pockets of Germans in the Forest De La Londe.

(The German DNB agency admitted Canadian army forces "broke through German belt positions on the Risle river and in the Londe forest." It said the Germans withdrew to "a new line of resistance between Croneville on the Risle and La Bouville.")

An undetermined, but apparently small, number of Germans remained in a pocket south of the Seine between Pont Audemer and Rouen, under merciless attack by Allied planes and artillery. Only a few hours of life, it most remained to them and official sources said they already had been by-passed and could have no direct influence on the battle.

SWIMMING SEINE

Many Nazis were reported swimming the Seine under the eaking fire of Allied planes, but virtually all enemy heavy equipment and transport remaining south of the river seemed certain to fall into Allied hands.

Hundreds of RAF, Dominion and Allied planes ranged almost unchallenged over the Seine, splattering the river crossings with thousands of fragmentation bombs, while formations of light and medium bombers fighters and fighter-bombers ranged far ahead into Luxembourg, Germany and Denmark.

While the Americans drove toward Chateau-Thierry, Nazi reports said a second American thrust north of Troyes had reached the Marne at Vitry-en-Francois, 90 miles beyond Paris and barely 100 miles from the German border.

BATTLE OF MARNE

At any event, the third battle of the Marne was on and official reports indicated that this time the Germans had little left with which to stem the Allied tide sweeping eastward on their frontiers.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's 3rd Army troops met sharp resistance at a number of places from enemy rear guards numbering up to 1,000 men, but at most points only a handful of Nazis barred the way.

Meaux, 23 miles east of Paris, was captured and headquarters said Patton's men crossed to the north bank of the Marne and were approaching Chateau-Thierry, 23 1/2 miles farther to the east.

On their right flank, between the valleys of the Marne and Seine, a second American force drove across rolling farms and woodlands still pitted with the marks of 1918.

Headquarters said the Americans had plunged on beyond captured Troyes without meeting more than token resistance from the battle-weary Nazis in their path, and Berlin said the Americans were in Vitry, 37 miles northeast of Troyes.

CLINCH HOLD

With the twin drives to the Marne, the Americans appeared to good number of Germans to pour back through the Rouen corridor. Enemy forces still hold the eastern edge of the Forest De Londe barrier to Rouen.

But the Canadians crossing between Elbeuf and Pont De L'Arche threaten to neutralize any German plans to make a stand for Rouen itself, and the move places the Canadians in position to break out into open territory again.

RAF and RCAF harassment of the German flight across the Seine included sinking two ferries, damaging more than 20 barges, making direct hits on eight pontoon jetties, and the destruction or damage of five tanks and 53 other vehicles.

BLOCKED BY CANUCKS

The Rouen escape route is blocked by Canadians who now are right across the base of the Rouen loop, but the enemy is using other crossings at the top of three other Seine bends west of Rouen at Du Clair, Caudebec and Quillebeuf.

The Canadians have not yet taken any great number of prisoners and the future haul is not likely to be large. But those Nazis taken in groups of 200 and 800 were a hodge-podge of nearly every type of unit in the German army.

Civilians Leaving Town of Manila

LONDON, Aug. 25.—(CP)—The German agency DNB, in a broadcast of Tokyo dispatches, said yesterday "the town of Manila is being evacuated" but the context of the broadcast indicated the evacuation was limited to civilians unnecessary to strictly necessary functions of the Philippine capital. Japanese fear of air attack apparently prompted the measure, which possibly applied also to women and children.

have clinched their hold on the famous valley which in two wars has meant life and death to France.

In September, 1918, the German army was halted at the Marne and France was saved. In July, 1918, the Allies won the second battle of the Marne and German's plunge to defeat began. The Germans crossed the river in June, 1940, without a major contest and won France.

Between the Seine and the Marne, the Americans captured Nogent-sur-Seine and the towns of Bourdenay and St. Lupien to the south, and closed on Romilly and Provins without meeting important opposition.

CLOSE ON BREST

In Brittany, American troops pounded 1,000 yards deeper into the last ring of German fortifications guarding Brest from the land side, while British and Allied warships continued their bombardment of the port from the sea.

Four Nazi vessels were sunk off the French Atlantic coast, and a fifth was driven aground by Allied naval units.

Red Cavalrymen Reported Over Hungary Border

miles of Bucharest, one column swept along the railroad to Ploesti and the other struck down the main highway to the capital.

The Red Army troops, moving along the western side of the 45-mile-wide gap below Focsani, were meeting only token resistance from the fleeing Germans and Romanian troops were surrendering on contact.

In sweeping to Ramnicul-Sarat, a rail junction on the Cernauli-Ploesti railroad 18 miles northeast of Basai, Malinovsky's army made a spectacular 40-mile advance that pierced the Galati gap at Focsani and threatened to cut off the escape routes of German forces in the Balkans.

On the eastern side of the gap, the main forces of Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin's 3rd Ukrainian Army smashed across the Prut river and captured Galati, Romania's third largest city with a population of 101,000.

At the same time, other units cleared a 35-mile section of the east bank of the Prut, between Cahul and Renin, 11 miles east of Galati.

Tolbukhin's troops likewise were meeting only slight resistance in the drive through the historic gap between the Danube and the Carpathians.

The only formidable resistance was from remnants of 12 German divisions trapped in a pocket southwest of Chisinau where the doomed Nazis were being steadily liquidated. They made several attempts to break free yesterday. A communique said the attackers were wiped out to the last man. In other sectors of the trap, the Russians captured four generals. Three other generals were found dead on the field.

200,000 CASUALTIES

In the last eight days of the lightning campaign through central Romania, more than 200,000 Germans and Romanians have been killed or captured. Among Romanian forces which surrendered yesterday was one full division, an artillery regiment and parts of two infantry divisions.

As the result of the furious sweeps of the two Ukrainian armies, the Russians and Romanians have seized all passes through the Carpathians from Bukovina along the Transylvanian Alps to the borders of Yugoslavia, leaving little possibility of German forces in the Balkans escaping. Their predicament was made worse by Bulgaria's desertion of Germany. German garrisons compelled to leave Bulgaria probably now are racing to reach the Yugoslav escape corridor before the Red army marching across southern Romania establishes contact with Marshal Tito's forces.

FACE EVACUATION

The enemy garrisons in Greece and on the scattered islands in the Aegean faced a similar situation—forced evacuation or capture.

The Germans brought up heavy reinforcements in an attempt to break the Soviet lines east of Praga, in the Warsaw sector, but were turned back with large losses of men and material. Following these futile counter-attacks, Russian troops probed the German lines north of Warsaw and occupied several positions.

In the north, Gen. Ivan I. Maslennikov's 3rd Baltic army continued its steady march toward the Gulf of Gdansk occupying the town of Talsgulinna, seven and a half miles north of Valka on the Estonian-Latvia border.

Thirty German bombers and 12 fighters attempted to stop the fast-moving Soviet troops. Six were shot down. Sixteen German planes were knocked down in other sectors of the front.

were showered down on the Germans in their home country and France.

(A German broadcast reported Allied bombers over Styria, in lower Austria, and over Hungary, indicating that Italian-based warplanes also had joined the attack on the continent.)

In one of the heaviest daylight

assaults yet on Germany proper, the Allies sent an estimated 1,200 four-engined bombers from Britain and Italy striking through the Reich and capped the attacks with a night Mosquito raid on Mannheim and another pounding on flying bomb launching sites in Franco's Pas de Calais.

Approximately 9,000 tons of explosives were strewn over Germany in the daylight raids from the southwestern corner of Silesia, through the Ruhr to the northeast tip. The near-record assault was carried out by 1,250 RAF and RCAF heavy bombers, making their first daylight mission into Germany in two years and flying Fortresses and Liberators from England and Italy.

Oil's Contribution to Man

In 1849 a group of far-sighted men drilled down into the earth near Titusville, Pennsylvania. At a little over sixty-nine feet, their drill struck oil... and thus, in the little wooden shacks that sheltered the pioneer Drake Well, the petroleum industry was born.

Through eighty-five years of progress, new generations of oil men have pushed their drills almost five miles down below the surface, stepped up petroleum production from forty to over 4,500,000 barrels a day on this continent. And on this tidal wave of "liquid power" rich gifts have flowed to mankind... the modern car, truck and airplane... oil-heated homes and oil-driven ships... the farmer's tractor... asphalt roads that unite the nation... lubricants and other petroleum products that have enabled industry to produce better goods at lower cost, for more people. Today, as essential "ammunition" on our fighting fronts, petroleum is making its finest gift—victory in a bitter war to preserve our way of life and ensure our future.

As Canada's pioneer and leader in the field of petroleum, Imperial Oil Limited has contributed abundantly to the achievements of the past—in giving its best and utmost to the war job of today. Tomorrow, when peace comes, Imperial Oil service station men will again speed the motorist happily along the highway. Imperial Oil research workers will turn their inventive skill from tasks of war to problems of peacetime progress. The Imperial Oil geologists, engineers and drillers who brought Norman Wells and Turner Valley into being will continue to search for the oil resources necessary to our further progress.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

EDMONTON fans were privileged to sit in on one of the rarities of baseball Sunday afternoon—a real honest to goodness no-hitter—and they were quick to acclaim T4 Walter Misosky for a very fine pitching performance.

Exactly 30 men faced the former Yank lefty in the nine innings—the three extras over the orthodox 27 securing bases on balls. Misosky received errorless support from his team-mates and has particular reason to be grateful to Bill Hahn for making two beautiful catches in right field. Doug Roush's drive in the fourth inning was tagged for a double at least.

Wilbur Ray's work for Yanks was also unusually good until the ninth, when he gave up three of the six hits allowed during the entire game. Gerry Johnson, another 1943 Yank, had tough going trying to hold his erstwhile team-mates who had a peak at the hit column every inning excepting the fifth. Forrest Hunter, the most improved pitcher in the Edmonton senior circuit, held Fort Lewis to a single for five innings and then gave out three hits in the sixth.

Fort Lewis team had six former Yanks on its roster—John Guleksson, Harley Miller, Tony Lollo, Skip Phillips, Misosky and Johnson and they all got a real hand from the big crowd. They weren't backward either in saying how much they enjoyed being back at Renfrew. Fort Lewis, incidentally, is 55 miles south of Seattle.

COAST CLUB DISAPPOINTS

It begins to look as if officials of Western Canada have on their hands a situation which may call for some disciplinary action. And in the meantime, Army and Navy Pats, senior girls' champions appear to be left holding the bag.

Walk-Rite "A" and Centrals In Finals of Fastball Series

Walk-Rite "A" and Central Aeroliners reached the finals in the city girls' and men's fastball leagues respectively at Kingsway Park yesterday afternoon. The Walk-Rites defeated CP Airlines 10-4 and Centrals won from Moose 10-5.

The Centrals dropped the first of the semi-final but came back to down the Moose club on Thursday and then take the rubber game yesterday. They now meet Officers for the crown in a best of five session starting Tuesday night.

Both clubs received good pitching, but errors lost the game for Moose. They were ahead by two runs scored in the third when Centrals pushed across five unearned ones in the fourth to overtake the losers and then triumph handily.

Following is the box score:

ANNABELLE THOMPSON HURLES FOUR-HITTER

Annabelle Thompson turned back the CP Airlines girls with a four-hit performance in the opener of the doubleheader yesterday to allow the Walk-Rites to advance into the City Girls' Fastball League finals against the winner of the Army and Navy Pats—Bomberettes series.

With Annabelle and her battery mate Minnie Wilson both getting two for four, the Walk-Rites blasted two CPA choppers for 11 safeties, including six extra base ones.

A big second inning, in which they combined three singles, a triple and a double with a pair of errors for six runs gave the Walk-Rites a margin the CPA club was always far from tying.

Following is the box score:

Fort-Lewis Shuts Out Local U.S. Nine 2-0, Then Drops Second 6-1

Misosky Tosses No-Hitter Against Yanks

Only Three Reach First, All on Walks

A CROWD of close to 7,000 saw T4 Walter Misosky shut off the Yanks without either a hit or a run in pitching Fort Lewis to a 2-0 victory over Yanks in the first half of Sunday afternoon's doubleheader at Renfrew Park. The local U.S. Army Air Base nine took the second game 6-1.

Last previous no-hitter recorded at Renfrew was by Lefty Belter against Dodgers in 1933, while the only one prior to that was marked up in 1936 by Les Webber, now with Brooklyn Dodgers, while pitching for Wetaskiwin.

Forrest Hunter worked for Yanks in the second half and allowed the visiting soldiers only one hit for five innings, but they collected three more and scored their only run in the sixth.

Gerry (Lefty) Johnson, also with Yanks here last year, the same as Misosky, pitched for Fort Lewis in the second and gave way to Bill Hahn in the sixth, having been nicked for eight hits and six runs.

There was nothing fluke about Misosky's no-hitter. Only three Yanks reached first during the entire nine innings—Crumly in the third, Robertson in the fifth and Ray in the sixth—and all got there on walks. But twice during the game Bill Hahn in right field cut off potential hits.

In the third Wilbur Ray sent out a hard drive into centre-right and Hahn gathered it in after a nice sprint. Crumly was on second base at the time and would easily have scored.

Hahn's catch of a hard hit ball by Doug Roush in the fourth was a sensational effort. Otherwise Misosky was in complete control all the way, the Yanks going out in order in six innings. The big left hander struck out eight.

He also turned in a good game, allowing only three scattered safeties up to the ninth when the Fort Lewis boys got to him for three hits and the pair of runs which won the game.

Misosky, already with two hits to his credit, one a three-bagger in the first inning, opened the ninth with a single to centre field. John Guleksson then laid down what was meant for a sacrifice, but the execution was so perfect Ray couldn't reach the ball and it went for a hit.

Ray retired Lollo on strikes, but Habenev came up with a single to right which scored both runners. It looked as the Fort Lewis boys were headed for more when Ray walked "Skip" Phillips and then fell while attempting to field Hahn's bunt.

Morgan, however, struck out, and Harley Miller forced Hahn at second—Galvin to Robertson—for the final out.

Table with 10 columns: Team, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows for Fort Lewis vs Yanks.

Score by innings: Fort Lewis 000 000 002-2 6 0; Yanks 000 000 000-0 6 4.

YANKS OUTHIT VISITORS IN WINNING SECOND 6-1

The second half of the double bill was limited to seven innings by agreement. Yanks were always in front after the first and outhit their opponents eight to four in marking up their 6-1 win.

They counted once in the opening session, added a pair of runs in the second, another in the fourth and two more in the sixth. Fort Lewis scored their singleton in the sixth on three hits, as many as Hunter had allowed them in the first five frames.

Columbus Burchfield started the lower half of the initial heat by waiting for a quartet of wide ones and Dorsky singled. Roush advanced both on a sacrifice and Galvin drove Burchfield in with a single to first.

Successful doubles by Robertson and Goodrich gave Yanks their first run in the second chapter. Hunter struck out, but Burchfield walked. Guleksson tried to pick Goodrich off second, but his throw was high.

Table with 10 columns: Team, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows for Yanks vs Fort Lewis.

Score by innings: Yanks 000 000 000-1 2 1; A. and N. Pats 020 210-6 10 4.

By Jimminy Triumphs Easily In $80,200 American Derby

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Alfred P. Parker's By Jimminy took a bounding stride toward horse-of-the-year laurels with his run-away triumph in the $80,200 American Derby at Washington Park Saturday.

With two down in the fourth Johnson hit Burchfield and did the same to Dorsky. Roush singled Burchfield home.

Singles by Guleksson and Lollo, a fielder's choice on Habenev's out and Phillips' single netted one run for Fort Lewis in the sixth.

Burchfield's hit which followed a walk to Hunter, Dorsky's sacrifice and triple to the south fence gave Yanks their last two runs.

Table with 10 columns: Team, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows for Fort Lewis vs Yanks.

Score by innings: Fort Lewis 000 001 0-1 4 2; Yanks 120 102 4-8 8 1.

England was the birthplace of shortland.

That the five-horse field was the second smallest in the history of the 34-year-old classic did not minimize the crushing victory by the big brown eastern colt which tore home six lengths ahead of Old Kentucky, topping a second from the former Derby record of 2:04 held jointly by Cavalcade and Whirlaway.

By Jimminy virtually blasted into season oblivion Calumet Farm's Pensive, the Kentucky Derby-Preakness champion, which finished fourth, a neck behind Nelson Dunstan. It was the seventh straight setback for Pensive, making a last-chance bid for at least three-year-old honors.

In addition to wrapping $61,650 around the bank-roll of his retired stock broker owner, By Jimminy also brought distinction toockey George Woolf of Gardston, Alta., who scored his third successive Derby triumph. Woolf won with Alsab in 1942 and on Askmenow last year.

Woolf sent By Jimminy to the front soon after the break, kept him ambling easily in front until the stretch and then rallied him home in a breath-taking rush that left the rest of the small field reeling. Old Kentucky moved up from last around the final turn to finish second by a neck over Nelson Dunstan.

City Tennis Tournament Makes Excellent Progress

The city tennis tournament got away to a fine start over the week-end with a total of 26 matches run off at the Glenora courts on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. There were no upsets, but most of the games were keenly contested all the way.

In the men's singles on Saturday, Walter McIntosh, Bob Hoiles and George Docherty all advanced into the next round with wins over their opponents as expected.

The longest match of the day was in this event between Hoiles and Carl Farviden. This was a grueling three set affair with Hoiles getting the nod only after about two and a half hours.

In the ladies' singles, the Mackay sisters, Lola and Norma both won their matches without being in serious difficulty at any time while "Shorts" Purcell and his partner, Ina Jacobs defeated Bill Ralph and Cal Holmgren two straight to advance in the mixed doubles. Bill and Cal had the lead in the second set at one time and it looked as though it would go another one, but the winners settled down and ran the set out 7-5.

On Sunday, seven matches were played in the men's singles with Bill Ralph, Herb Mescon, Les McManus, Alf Potter, Ralph McMillan, Jack Heifner and Tudor Edmunds all advancing into the next round.

In the ladies' singles, Betty Hume had little difficulty in disposing of Helen Lilly 6-1, 6-1 and Doris Walton defeated Ina Jacobs 6-3, 6-4. Bob Hoiles and George Schmid were not hard pressed to eliminate Herb Mescon and Charlie Gosman from the men's doubles while George Docherty and Bill Ralph also advanced by defeating a pair of Civil Service juniors.

A great match for the gallery was in the men's doubles between Harry Kinloch and Les McManus of Garneau and Alf Blythe and Carl Farviden. It featured some very fine volleying and some other spectacular points.

Match Dropped In Bear's Fur Causes Burns

Officials of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals are investigating an act of "deliberate mischief and cruelty" to animals in Borden Park zoo, it has been learned. The investigation was begun after someone with an unkind sense of humor dropped a lighted match into the fur of one of the caged bears, and burning the animal about the body.

When the offence was committed has not been ascertained, according to Alec Lawrence, of the S.P.C.A., but it was apparently done when no guard was about the premises, possibly after hours.

The huge animal, its body rose and red, with a patch of hair about 24 inches in diameter burned from its left side, padded about its enclosure Sunday afternoon in the sight of hundreds of people, while innumerable flies attacked it.

"SMART-ALECKS"

It was not the first time that "smart-alecks" had tormented zoo exhibits, said the S.P.C.A. officer, and related how some persons had handed burning cigarettes to the monkeys, which would scream with pain.

Guards cannot be present everywhere at one time or all the time, it was stated by the Humane Society officer, who added that there is a heavy penalty for all offenders, should they be caught.

There was also danger of fire breaking out, in the case of the monkeys, which are housed in wooden buildings, where lighted cigarette butts were placed through the cages, he said.

The burns on the bear, while not serious, might easily have been so, and certainly would cause the animal pain, it was stated.

Home on Leave

Lt. M. J. "Mac" Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Gordon, 10124 107 avenue, arrived in the city Monday morning to spend 30 days' leave with his parents. He has completed one tour of operational flights as a fighter pilot with the City of Calgary Wolf squadron which has been based in France since shortly after the invasion.

Local Airman Is Among Earliest Land in France

One of the first few Allied aircraft to set wheels on French soil was piloted by Lt. M. J. Gordon, RCAF fighter pilot from Edmonton, who arrived back in the city Monday morning.

A member of the Wolf Squadron, which is part of one of the first wings based at a liberated airfield in France, he was flying Spitfires and has a bag of three enemy aircraft destroyed and one damaged to his credit.

"Two or three days after the invasion started we were flying from a field in France," he said.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Gordon, 10124 107 avenue, he is home on 30 days leave and expects to return overseas to active duty.

On July 2 during the aerial battles over the Normandy beachhead it took him just one minute to destroy two enemy aircraft. Despite this, when questioned about his experiences he commented, "Oh, nothing exciting ever happened to me."

"We did a bit of strafing too," he said, "and had a lot of fun shooting up German staff cars and any other vehicle we came across."

Born in Daysland, the flyer is well-known in Edmonton sports circles, having been a member of the Maple Leaf rugby and hockey teams.

He enlisted in the RCAF in November 1940 and received his training at Mount Hope near Hamilton, Ont., and Danville, Ont. He won his wings and commission in October, 1941, and was on instructional duty in Canada until May last year when he was posted overseas.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION In order to sell Canada's surplus agricultural products on a competitive world market the Dominion government proposes to subsidize the farmers for products sold in foreign markets. It was announced that it is proposed to hold a conference with agriculturalists to set a basic price on such products, and if they have to be sold at lower than that price the government will pay the difference. What is your opinion of such a plan?

THE ANSWERS R. MACDONALD, farmer: In my opinion it is a very good idea. At the present time farmers are receiving a decent price for their products because the surplus is being sent overseas and not left here to swamp the market. Under such a plan it would be possible to maintain a standard price on these goods.

MRS. HELEN CRAWFORD, housewife: It appears to be a sound move to establish Canadian agricultural produce in foreign markets. Our surplus must be offered at prices which are as low as other countries are asking if we hope to establish Canadian farm products in the world market.

W. O'SULLIVAN, accountant: That may be all right, but I don't like the idea of the taxpayers having to stand the brunt of the deal. It might be years before we could get anywhere near the basic price they suggest for these products on foreign markets and in the meantime it will cost the people of this country a lot of money.

C. W. Meakins, Hamilton, president of Meakins and Son, arrived in Edmonton Monday on his way to Hamilton after a visit to the Pacific coast. He is accompanied by Mrs. Meakins.

Urge Early Start Christmas Parcels

It may be difficult to get excited over Christmas in August but Postmaster General William P. Mulock on Monday urged that it is time to start making plans for Christmas gift parcels going to members of the armed forces overseas.

This year more than ever plenty of time should be allowed for the handling of the increased mail and its distribution to even more far-flung fighting fronts.

The disappointment caused by late arrival of Christmas gifts can be spared the fighting services if citizens will give careful attention to correct addressing, proper packaging and early mailing.

Suggested deadline mailing dates for the different theatres of war are: Sept. 15, the Far East, India, Burma, Ceylon; Oct. 5, the middle East area, Egypt, Iran, Iraq, Syria; Oct. 10, central Mediterranean forces; Oct. 25, United Kingdom and France.

Protest Period Alta. Election Ending Aug. 29

Last day for provincial election returning officers to receive protests in connection with Alberta's Aug. 8 election is Tuesday, Aug. 29. If no protests are received by that time, members-elect are "gazetted" by Robert A. Anderson, chief electoral officer of the province, receiving official recognition in their new post.

Election returns were filed by returning officers in all ridings on Friday, Aug. 18. The extra period is allowed for any person to come forward with a protest against alleged irregularities in balloting or counting.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Good Sport Plays Fair With Men, Women Alike

Such a Girl Recognizes Sacrifices of Parents; Takes Things No Matter How Upsetting, in Her Stride; Doesn't Play Dirty Tricks

A group of girls ask me if I will give them my idea of a girl who is a good sport. Well, my idea of a girl who is a good sport is one who plays fair. Especially with her mother and father. She doesn't take anything and give nothing. She doesn't let Mother see her fingers to the bone making her a pretty party frock and then, when Mother asks her where she is going and when she will be back, tell her it is none of her darn business and that she will come home when she pleases. She doesn't keep her father hump-shouldered paying her bills and then scoff at his opinions as those of a senile Dodo.

On the contrary, she recognizes that her parents have worked hard and made many sacrifices for her, and that the least she can do is to give them a run for their money by being affectionate and companionable to them and causing them as little anxiety as possible.

HAS BRAVE ATTITUDE

My idea of a girl who is a good sport is one who has the brave attitude towards life. There is not a whine in her whole system. She takes what comes in her stride and makes the best of it. Maybe she would like to be a play girl instead of a working girl. Undoubtedly she would like to wear the silks and satins and furs and jewels she sells to rich girls. Surely she would like to lie abed of a morning instead of having to punch an office time clock. But if she would, you never hear it from her. She never bemoans her fate. She thanks God she has the intelligence and ability and grit to hold down a good job.

My idea of a girl who is a good sport is a square shooter. She is honest and frank and above board and she doesn't consider that her sex is an alibi for fibbing and welching and double-crossing. She doesn't hold up the boys who date her and make them spend more money on her than they can afford. She doesn't jolly a poor simp into taking her to a party and then ditch him and spend the evening dancing with other men. She doesn't have a birthday every time she sees a bag or wrist watch she wants. And, if she is a business girl, she doesn't try to make sex appeal take the place of good work, and rolling her eyes substitute for accuracy and efficiency.

My idea of a girl who is a good sport is one who plays the game. She is not puffed up by prosperity nor down-hearted over misfortune. If she is rich, she is not a snob. If she is poor, she is not a toady. She is neither a braggart nor a self-pitier. She neither runs after men nor away from them. If they show her attentions, well and good. If they don't, also well and good. Life is full of a number of things for her besides dates.

My idea of a girl who is a good sport is one who carries on. She is no quitter. She doesn't sit down and wring her hands and cry every time she meets a difficulty. She doesn't give up when the sledging gets hard. She simply bends to her work and puts her heart and her back in it and struggles on to success. All of the big business and professional women are good sports. So are the wives who hold their husbands. Because they don't give up the first time things go wrong. That is my idea of a good sport. That's the girl for my money.

THESE WOMEN!

"Listen to this one—'Oshwaigo'—boating, swimming, dancing, tennis. Eight-tenths of a man for every woman! That's our best bet if you ask me."

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

HARD TO TELL IN ONE INSTANT

Sometimes, apparently in an attempt to be funny, you succeed in being offensive and a disgrace to your profession—that is, if you really have the right to use the title of doctor. It might be well for you to compare the dignified character of Dr. Brady's column with your would-be humor. . . . of which this suggestion of "pasteurizing" infected tonsils is too typical. . . . (T. E. L.)

I have tried every feasible method in the years I have been grinding out this column before the eminent Dr. . . . whose distinguished style you admire started his health column. One method recommended to me by numerous experienced editors was to just monkey around and say anything at all to get the reader's attention and then let him have it in one crisp sentence or paragraph. This struck me as an excellent plan. But no go. I found in many instances the meat of the article was omitted (to make it fit a limited space) and only the chaff was left. Of course that made many readers regard my attempt to be funny as you do, sir or madam.

By "pasteurizing" a focus of infection, a septic focus in the tonsil I mean precisely what I say—the infected area of tonsil tissue is subjected to sufficient heat to prevent multiplication of germs in the tissue, if not sufficient to destroy all the germs. It is identical in principle with pasteurizing milk or other food. This is a rational, scientific explanation of the benefit a patient with infected tonsils derives from skilled diathermy—electro-coagulation—treatment at the hands of a physician skilled in that field. It accounts for the marked relief or improvement in the general or systemic trouble which patients with focal infection experience after the first two or three diathermy treatments, long before the infected portion of the tonsil has been extirpated or destroyed.

There is a zone surrounding the point of coagulation where the passage of the diathermy current raises the temperature of the tissue to approximately the temperature of milk being pasteurized (145-150 degrees F.)—and if this is not pasteurization of the tissue in the zone, you may give it whatever name you deem appropriate.

Notwithstanding the radical views of doctors of yesterday concerning the tonsils, the present consensus and practice is by comparison strikingly conservative. Not only in regard to removal of simply enlarged tonsils (and adenoids) in children, but also in the treatment of focal infection.

Try beans lyonnaise for something different from your Victory Garden.

STRING BEANS LYONNAISE (Serves 4-5)

One to two pounds string beans, 12 green onions, 4 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1/2 cup boiling water, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon dried thyme, basil or rosemary.

"French the string beans, cutting them quite thin. Wash the green onions, green tops as well as snowy stems, cut into lengths about the same as the string beans. Add the butter, water, salt and herbs. Simmer gently until beans and onions are tender, the water and fat cooked into them. Add parsley and serve.

Note: Adding the butter at the beginning of the cooking instead of in the usual manner after cooking, gives you quite a different and unusually fine flavored bean.

Shell beans are in the market late in summer. The beans are fully developed in the pod. Frequently both pods and beans are spotted with pink. Shell the beans before cooking and discard pods.

McKenney On Bridge

America's Card Authority

A bridge expert seldom admits a mistake, so I was rather surprised when Harry Fishbein of the Mayfair Bridge Club, New York, called me up and said, "I just played a hand in rubber bridge and blew it—a simple hand that should be made."

South cards only. The opening lead (spade three) read as a fourth-best spade lead, and dummy's jack held the trick. Now the whole problem was the location of the queen of clubs. Would you play for the drop of the queen of clubs, or would you take the finesse, and if so, which way would you take it?

Fishbein said you must finesse, and must play West for the queen. If you play the ace and king and West has three clubs to the queen, the contract will be defeated. When West gets in, he will shift to a diamond. If the finesse falls and East wins, East can do no damage by shifting to a diamond, while if he continues with a spade, you are assured of two spade tricks, two hearts a diamond and four club tricks.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

However beneficial and necessary the action of sun on the human body, we can't expose a young child to it without full knowledge of its dangers when overdone.

It is, we believe, one of the obligations of every mother to take her small baby, or pre-runabout, out for a daily airing and sunning. Just how long the baby should remain in the sun depends entirely upon the degree of temperature. An hour or two on a day of moderate heat might be less harmful than 15 minutes when the temperature is torrid and the sun burning hot.

The warnings against sunstroke and sunburn are essential, so mothers, whose own skins are impervious to the sun, may not ignore the willing influence of too much sun or the ease with which a tender-skinned baby may be dangerously or painfully burned.

"I have a 15-months-old baby," writes Mrs. I.B.T., "and she had constant colds despite orange juice and cod liver oil. Several weeks ago we had her tonsils and adenoids out and since the first weeks, during which time she slept most of the time, I have taken her out in the sun daily. She spends an average of two hours in the sun and then comes in for a nap. She hasn't the slightest burn but is a lovely, tan color."

"My neighbors tell me that it is possible for her to get too much sun and that it will destroy the calcium in her system. She drinks a quart of milk a day, including what she gets on cereal. I dress her in shoes, stockings, panties and bonnet when I put her out. I was told that she had enough sun to last her until next summer."

"How can I tell if she has enough sun? Why are some children rosy-cheeked and others pale? My child looks almost yellow."

The action of sun on the bare skin (your baby seems pretty well protected) helps the body to deposit the minerals from the diet in the bones, teeth and nervous system. More sun would mean a greater de-

CRYING IS NOT A SIGN OF WEAKNESS

The idea that a person who resorts to a good cry once in a while is weak-willed and lacking in emotional control, is all foolishness, psychologists say. Crying is an emotional safety valve and is distinctly beneficial to both body and mind. Those whose emotions are normal and unexpressed are quite likely to cry as an outlet when they are emotionally disturbed. Many of the greatest men in history have been known to cry on various occasions. It is a sign of strength and emotional balance rather than weakness.

degree of metabolism, not the opposite as your neighbors proclaim. I doubt if children could store up enough sun from season to season, so the deficiency of sunlight is placed out during the winter by use of vitamin D, which acts on the body processes as does sunlight.

The thickness of the skin has something to do with rosy cheeks and pale cheeks. But, it may be, that your daughter is somewhat anemic following the operation and may need some iron medication. Ask the doctor to make a blood test. Our leaflet "Rickets and the Anti-Rachitics," explains why vitamin D is needed during child's growth period. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, in care of this newspaper.

See Little Hope For Any Change In Liquor Ration

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—(CP)—While there was no official comment here on a statement by Premier George Drew of Ontario urging a relaxation of restrictions on the sale of liquor, it is understood there is little prospect of a change before the end of the war.

The Federal government's order limiting sales to a percentage of the amount sold in 1941 was put forward originally as a measure of temperance and governmental spokesmen have never based it on a shortage of supplies.

Hold-Up Victim Dies of Injuries

VANCOUVER, Aug. 28.—(CP)—David Culbertson, 61, of Burnaby, B.C., died here yesterday from injuries suffered when he was attacked Aug. 23 by two unidentified holdup men. Culbertson suffered head injuries in the attack. A small amount of money and personal effects were removed from his pockets by his assailants, police said.

YOUR AA RATION IS AN "ISSUE" OF VITAL AMMUNITION

THINK!...before you waste a drop!

GASOLINE for all purposes—civil and military—comes from the one common petroleum pool of the Allied Nations! Oil control in Canada must keep our withdrawals from this common pool down to a minimum. Your AA ration was not given to you for pleasure driving. It represents the outside limit of what the average motorist should use for essential wartime driving including voluntary war work.

In this country, where train, bus and street car systems cannot alone carry all essential traffic, the motor car is an indispensable link in the nation's transportation chain. It is to help keep civil transportation rolling that your AA gasoline allowance is made. Only in instances where this basic allowance is insufficient for some specific essential service or war job, are extra rations being allowed.

Remember that your gasoline ration is an "issue" of ammunition. Don't waste it. Don't squander it on needless trips. It is your obligation to make your AA allowance do a real wartime job. Every gallon we can go without here at home means that much more for the fighting men.

First Time in This War

3 Canadian Divisions Fought Together In Drive Along Caen-Falaise Highway.

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 28.—(CP)—Three Canadian divisions—the 4th Armored and the 2nd and 3rd Infantry—were in action together for the first time in this war during the Canadian army's 10-day battle along the Caen-Falaise highway which culminated in the capture of Falaise, the closing of an Allied trap at Trun and the annihilation of the German 7th Army.

This was the first major offensive launched by Lt-Gen. Crerar's 1st Canadian Army on Aug. 8 and these three divisions, supported by a Polish armored division and in the early stages by a British division, destroyed the Caen-Falaise hinge for the greatest Canadian victory in France.

Permission was given Saturday to disclose that the 4th Canadian division had been fighting in France up to Aug. 18 and also that the 2nd and 3rd divisions were engaged with it until that date.

FORMED VANQUARD

The 2nd division and a British division formed the vanguard of the initial thrust which broke through the first line of German defences south of Caen in the wake of a 1,000-bomber attack just after dark Aug. 7. The 2nd—which fought at Dieppe—was on the west side of the Caen-Falaise highway, the British on the east side.

Boisancourt, Fontenay-Le-Marion, May-Sur-Orne and Tilly-La-Campagne were taken and all next day the advance rolled forward.

Lt-Gen. G. O. Simonds, commander of the 2nd Canadian Corps, commanded the actual operations in the field. He put both the 4th armored division and the Polish armored division through the 2nd division and the British division. Hundreds of tanks lunged south along both sides of the highway with infantry of those divisions following close behind.

Cintheux and Hautmesnil were captured and the Germans were driven from Breteville-Le-Rabte. The Polish forces fanned out east of the highway and the 4th division struck for high ground west of the highway near Poligny, five miles northwest of Falaise.

REACH HIGH GROUND

The Canadians reached this high ground and the Polish divisions advanced to the Laison river to the east. The German second defence line was penetrated and the German 8th and 9th infantry divisions, which had just arrived from Norway and which took the brunt of this attack, were practically eliminated. It looked as if Canadian and Polish tanks would sweep right through to Falaise to complete a 20-mile advance from Caen over these bloody slopes.

But the enemy rushed in troops to block the final thrust. A new infantry division was put into the line and some SS formations were thrown in. A new gun screen was hurriedly established north of Falaise.

This was the first action for the 4th armored division and it didn't exploit the break-through rapidly enough. New to battle, they hesitated in the final thrust just a little too long. The Germans formed new positions and by Aug. 11 the Canadian army advance was stopped dead.

YANKS RUN WILD

Meanwhile American forces were running wild to the south. They got to Le Mans, 65 miles south of Falaise, and kept going east. German armor concentrated in the Mortain area, 37 miles southwest of Falaise, was caught on a deep salient. The Normandy pocket was being created to enfold the enemy's 7th army. Falaise had to be captured to trap the Germans and Gen. Crerar and Gen. Simonds mounted a new attack.

The 2nd Division swung west, capturing Breteville-Le-Rabte and working south through the Laison valley, while the 3rd Division, which had been in reserve, moved up for the next large-scale attack which went in at noon Aug. 14. Then the 4th and 3rd Divisions, from a starting point east of the highway, advanced across the Laison river and fought their way through the German gun screen which extended along the slopes northeast of Falaise.

The attack went well. Another 1,000-bomber raid supported the attack and was intended to blot out the Germans along the highway on the right flank of the advance. Even when approximately 20 per cent of the bombs fell short, the attack was not hindered.

By the morning of Aug. 15 the 3rd and 4th Divisions were within 2½ miles of Falaise. By the afternoon they were little more than a mile away to the northeast. As this two-division attack gained ground, the 2nd Division pushed far along the Laison valley and approached Falaise from the northwest.

CAPTURED BY SECOND

Clair-Tizon, Ussy and Villers-Cadivet were captured by the 2nd as it drove ahead with tank support. Poligny fell and the 3rd and 4th divisions fought into Olendon, Saavy, Epasay and Verveneville, northeast of Falaise. The three Canadian divisions were racing to be the first into the city while the Polish division mopped up around Poligny.

On the night of Aug. 16 the 2nd division got troops into Falaise and next day the town was captured. It was a 2nd division triumph but the 3rd and 4th divisions contributed to the success by engaging enemy forces northeast of Falaise. As the town fell, the 4th armored division was ordered to Trun, 10 miles southeast, with the Polish forces swinging wide on the left flank in the same direction. Trun was taken Aug. 18 and the gap was shortly sealed by these two armored divisions linking with American and French troops hustling northward from Argentan.

The German 7th Army was cut off and sliced to pieces by a gigantic air blitz and artillery fire. While the 2nd Division held firm around Falaise, the 3rd Division moved into the Trun barrier to help hold the line. The whole operation from south of Caen to Falaise and Trun, involving two major attacks skillfully executed, was a major factor in the smashing victory which opened the roads of the lower Seine valley.

THIRD SHOWED METTLE

The battle-tested 3rd Division, which was among the assault forces on D-Day, showed its stern mettle again and the 2nd Division found its feet and stormed ahead. The 4th Division did superbly in these, its first actions, despite difficulties in exploiting its first successes.

The 2nd Canadian Armored Brigade, which landed with the 3rd Division on D-Day, also shared in this advance, supporting both the 2nd and 3rd Divisions.

Canadian Legion Membership Here Now Exceeds 2,000

Membership in the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion passed the 2,000 mark during the month of August when 155 new members were enrolled. Harold E. Tanner, branch president, pointed to the steadily increasing strength with pride and reminded members that it wasn't so long ago that they were striving for the goal of 1,000 members.

Report from the membership committee submitted by Sidney Bowcott at the regular meeting of the branch held Sunday afternoon, gave the total of paid up members to date as 2,047 with four applications pending. Of the 155 new members who joined the organization during August 55 were old veterans and 100 were veterans of the present war.

Man Found Dead On City Street

William Barrett, 57 years old, of 9346 107 avenue, was found dead on the street at 103 avenue and 96 street about 8:20 p.m. Saturday, according to city police.

Albert Guerlain, 9320 106A avenue, stated to officers that he saw the man lying near the Collier hotel and on approaching him, found him unable to speak. Clarence Burk, 10552 62 avenue, who was driving past the hotel, said he saw the man set down a parcel he had been carrying, and then plunge forward into the roadway.

Identity of the body was made from papers and personal effects found in his clothing.

Dr. E. A. Braithwaite, chief provincial coroner, was notified, and after examining the body, ordered removal to the Foster & McGarvey funeral home.

A veteran of the First Great War, Mr. Barrett had no relatives in Canada. A brother, the Rev. Frederick Conqueror, resides at Derbyshire, England.

It was learned that Mr. Barrett had been under a doctor's care for some time. No inquest will be held.

Fatally Burned

VANCOUVER, Aug. 28.—(CP)—Nick Barocco, 35, of Vancouver, died here yesterday from burns suffered when his clothing caught fire in an unexplained manner while he was sleeping. Police said Barocco rushed from his home with his clothing in flames. Considerable damage was discovered in his room where a bed and some furniture was destroyed by fire.

Legion Requests Jesuit College For Dependents

A resolution urging Dominion government authorities to set aside the Jesuit College building for housing accommodation for dependents of servicemen and women and men returning from overseas with their families received the unanimous approval of members of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion, S.E.S.L., Sunday afternoon.

The resolution was brought forward by W. J. Williams, M.L.A., secretary-manager of the branch, at a regular meeting attended by approximately 300 members. He pointed out that many Canadian servicemen who have married overseas and who have been sent home because they are casualties, have no place to bring their wives and families.

NO ACCOMMODATION

One of the members who was discharged recently pointed out that he has been unable to find any accommodation for his wife and children. "In a lot of cases," he said, "when I have gone looking for rooms I've been turned down because I have children."

It was suggested that a committee of three or four members be appointed to confer with wartime housing officials when they arrive from Ottawa next week and members agreed that every effort should be made to obtain the Jesuit College buildings and that accommodation should be provided at a rental which could be met by families living on dependents' allowances.

A copy of the resolution was wired to Hon. C. D. Howe.

Another resolution which received the unanimous approval of members was one brought forward by J. C. MacDonald, vice-president of the branch, urging the Dominion government to take immediate steps to issue instructions that where servicemen are granted compassionate leave they be given their full pay and allowances.

At the present time men granted leave on compassionate grounds are out of pay and allowances.

"When such leave is granted," Mr. MacDonald said, "it almost always means there is illness in the family, and where there is illness it means added expense. More than at any other time this is when a serviceman is really in need of his pay and allowances."

DISCUSS CREDIT UNIONS

Members heard an outline of the history and workings of credit unions given by Alfred Peart and those particularly interested remained for discussion after the meeting on the subject of co-operative building associations and pointed out the tie-up between credit unions and such a co-operative association.

Both speakers emphasized the point that many of the members will receive their gratuity payments for armed forces service commencing the first of next year and that they should make some plans regarding the use of the money.

"Co-operation has proved a main factor in the winning of the war," Mr. Peart said, "so why don't we start applying a little more of it to our civilian life?"

Cyclist Receives Bruises to Arm

Reg. Kendrick, 11540 123 street, a cyclist, received slight bruises to an arm, about 12:30 p.m. Saturday, when he was knocked from the wheel by the pavement by an auto said by police to have been operated by Arthur G. Grimstead, 11721 128 street.

The accident occurred when the cyclist, whose head was down, turned suddenly in front of the car at 118 street and Kingsway, to be caught by the right front fender.

Woman Autoist Loses Control: Car Hits Fence

City police, investigating Saturday the complaint of an irate citizen at 108 street and 101 avenue, found that an auto, driven by a woman from another street, had gone out of control, rushed along the thoroughfare, and finally came to a halt after knocking down his fence.

The lady driver stated she had wanted to get some gasoline for Sunday, and that, as she started up, the gas-feed stuck and the car went out of control.

Got His Refund

Police responded to a hurry-up call to a 101A avenue cafe about 2:50 a.m. Sunday, where an irate soldier was demanding his money back. It appeared that he had fed a coin into the juke-box which wouldn't co-operate by playing. The money was refunded and the patron left.

They Unlocked a Treasure Electricity

THE POWER BEHIND OUR NATION'S PROGRESS

By harnessing the surging power of our waterfalls and rivers the Canadian electrical industry unlocked a vast and vital treasure. Nowhere in the world is so much electricity per capita used as in this country. Approximately two out of every three families in the Dominion live in homes served by electricity. More than seven times as much Electric Power is being produced in Canada today as during the last war.

Electricity already has done great things for Canada: Yet Canadian electrification is destined for still greater development and use. Only one-fifth of this nation's potential water power resources have been harnessed. Still further electrical development applied to our other great natural resources—to our land, our minerals, our forests—can help to make Canada one of the richest countries in the world!

But such a programme can succeed only if every responsible citizen will "Think Big" and plan courageously, today. Some measure of planning is already under way—but more is possible. War demands must not for a moment be neglected—yet postwar needs must not be forgotten. For by planning today we prepare for action tomorrow. We prepare work for tomorrow, markets for tomorrow—markets which will absorb our fullest productivity, provide full employment, lay a foundation for our nation's future.

Pioneers in Canada's electrical development, Canadian General Electric has made a host of important contributions to home betterment and industrial progress in the Dominion. The seven great plants of the Company—now concentrating almost exclusively on the production of vital war supplies—are equipped and manned to produce "everything electrical"—from a toaster to a 100,000 horse-power generator.

In Memoriam

IN loving memory of our beloved father, George Ravick, who died August 28, 1960. The blow was great, the shock severe. We little thought his death so near. Only those that have lost can tell. The sorrow of parting without farewell. —Sadly missed by Marie, Bill and Rose.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The stock market remained on a fairly even keel today as timid investment demand for peace-related issues helped offset such selling as dribbled into the exchange.

Dealers were slack from the start and while fractional advances were plentiful near the close, declines were widespread. Transfers ran to around 600,000 shares.
